Valve Accessories & Controls

The VAC Pac

Giving Customers "The 'Smart' Choice."

CHOICE should be a customer's decision and at VAC, the VACPACage of positioner products puts choice at the very center. With the simple V100 and versatile V200 pneumatic or electropneumatic positioner, or with the microprocessor based D400... you're in control while our products help you control your valve package. If a digital product is the "smart" choice, we will help guide you through that process; if not, we won't hesitate to recommend another option. In the end, we want YOU to have the best product for YOUR application.

Equal to our complete product line is our attention to YOU, the customer. We take pride in a customer service staff that will help you find the right positioner for your needs without a maze of phone directories and extensions. Our competitive pricing and excellent service set us apart from the others.
